

Your desktop and applications anywhere, anytime, with any device

Our Hosted Desktop serves you with a full Windows desktop complete with all of your applications. Your Hosted Desktop is centrally managed, accessed by private or public internet and published directly to any access device, whether PC, laptop, tablet or thin-client.

Each desktop service is uniquely configured to ensure it meets your organisation's applications and collaboration needs. All Microsoft™ software licensing is included, and we also manage the incorporation of any 3rd party applications.

Your desktop interacts with staff and peripheral devices in exactly the same way as a traditional desktop and is completely supported by us. You benefit from no additional requirement for in-house or 3rd party IT support.

Access to your hosted services can be achieved via any internet connection or via a private circuit, although the latter is recommended. You no longer need to think about how to effectively facilitate remote access, and all staff are working from the same software versions, benefiting from the same user experience.

Mother has an enormous internet connection into our datacentres which are secured with enterprise Cisco ASA firewall equipment. So wherever you are, as long as you have access to the internet, you'll have secure access to your desktop and your corporate applications.

Every Hosted Desktop component is wrapped up into a manageable monthly per-seat rental figure. Storage, backup, software licences and support is included. This service is all about simplicity and cost efficiency.
